Deer Season Opens Nov. 15th

Michigan hunters should see more deer than last fall in many parts of the state's northern white-tail country during the Nov. 15-30 firearm season, according to the Conservation Department.

Brightest over-all prospects are in the northern lower peninsula where field men reported a substantial increase above a year ago in their deer tallies.

Deer sightings were lower than last year in the upper peninsula, but county indicate whitetail numbers are holding up well in the western portion, except along the Lake Superior shore.

The general impression from all counties representing more than 65,000 hours of field observation, supports an early Department estimate that hunters will take upwards of 50,000 bucks this fall, provided they get a better break from frost than they did last year. Last year, hunters harvested an estimated 47,000 bucks and 28,000 antlerless deer.

It is not likely that the kill will not figure significantly in this year's late season special seasons will be limited to two small crop-damage areas in Oceana and Mason counties.

Department game officials look for roughly 450,000 hunters to be in the woods during the Nov. 15-30 season. Last year's regular and special seasons drew just over 400,000 hunters. The hunting force in the state's history.

Beers will also provide legal targets for hunters during the Nov. 15-30 period.

Mild weather helped to discourage the big animals from "dunnings" the woods. All over the peninsula hunters raised their bear kill to 800 during the concurrent firearm deer season, 530 over the year before. Only 90 were taken in the same period last year, below average for this part of the state.

Special State Senator Election Called For Nov. 20, Dec. 11

Looks Like Five Man Race On Republican Ticket, Democrats Unknown

Gov. John B. Swainson Saturday announced dates for the primary and special election in the 28th Senatorial District to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Charles T. Prescott. The primary will be held on November 20th with the deadline for filing November 13th and the deadline for withdrawal November 16th. The special election will be held on December 11th.

Definitely in the race is Herbert J. Smith Jr., of Houghton Lake, former Roscommon County Clerk and Register of Deeds and George W. Myles, Tawas City businessman and director of the 1960 census in the Tenth Congressional District.

Others reported seriously considering entering the special election are: George Prescott of Tawas City, Isco Co. Clerk and nephew of the late Senator Prescott; Harold Hughes, Clare attorney and Lewis T. Hubbs of Gladwin. Mr. Hubbs, a Gladwin businessman is currently serving in the 28th Senatorial District. He lost to Prescott in the GOP primary in August, 1960. All five men mentioned are Republicans. At this time, it was not known if any Democrats are considering entering the election but it is supposed that at least one and possibly more may enter the primary.

Smith, who is well known in Roscommon county and in state Republican circles, is understood to be gathering support in many of the 10 counties of the district. In announcing his candidacy, Smith said, "I am definitely interested in education of our youth. Conservation of our resources and development of the tourist industry through our system of free entertainment."

The senatorial aspirant was county clerk and register of deeds from 1949 through 1960. He has been a delegate to almost every state convention since 1948 and was county chairman for 10 years. Smith long has been interested in politics and has been an advocate of political training of high school students. He has participated in Senior Government Day in several high schools, has conducted mock elections and set up ballots for the students.

He was president of the Michigan State Association of Register of Deeds in 1955 and 1956, was for several years a member of that organization's legislative committee and is a former delegate to the Michigan Institute of Local Government, a political watchdog organization.

Vikings Lose Final, 20-0

The Grayling Vikings went down 20-0 defeat at the Grayling Memorial Recreation Area last Friday night in the final football game of the season. The victors were the Gaylord Blue Devils.

Thus the Vikings ended their conference season without a victory. They opened their season here September 15th with a 25-6 drubbing of the Harrison Hornets in a non-conference game. Since that game, the green and white were unable to clinch another victory.

In other conference action last Friday night, the season, the Boyne City Ramblers kept their record clean with an astounding 60-6 whipping administered to the Charlevoix Red Raiders. The Mancelona Ironmen climbed into the lead of the conference by surprising the Red Devils 13-0. The Pellston Hornets got back into their winning stride by plastering the Harbor Springs Rams 32-12.

Fumble and a leaky pass defense spelled another defeat for the Vikings Friday night. The Blue Devils tallied in the first quarter on a pass play to Ferrand that covered thirty yards. The extra point was added and Gaylord went out in front 7-0. They added their second touchdown in the second quarter on a three yard plunge but missed the extra point and 13-0 at halftime. The third period saw the last of the scoring as again the Blue Devils went to the air and connected on a pass play that covered 28 yards. The extra point was added and the final score stood at 20-0.

Grayling penetrated to the Blue Devils 20 once and to the 10 another time but lost the ball both times on fumbles. Tom LaMotte and Gary Pettijohn turned in fine games for Grayling. Eddie Robertson brought up from the Jayvee squad played almost half a game for Grayling, turning in a good performance.

The Jayvee backfield of Bill Joseph at quarterback, Jim Young and Dan Tinker at halfback and Mark Anderson at fullback were the mainstay of the offense. Minutes and looked very good.

It was the final high school football game for ten of the Vikings. Seniors who will graduate are: Norman, Tom LaMotte, Martin Tinker, Mike Young, Bill Moshier, Lacey Stephan, Gary Pettijohn, Larry Gust and Sherman Neal. Jim Johnson will be ineligible next year due to his age.

Eagles Drop Final, 32-8

The Frederic High Eagles lost their final football game of the season to the Grayling Memorial Recreation Area last Saturday night by a 32-8 count to strong Mackinaw City team in a Northern Six Man Football League contest.

Frederic scored in the first quarter when Fred Wilson scooped up a Comet fumble and raced 50 yards to score. Later in the first period Jim Midkiff killed a punt at the Mackinaw City 2 yard line. The Comets then fumbled in the backfield - with Frederic topping the ball carrier in the end zone to ring up a safety.

With but a minute and a half to go in the half, the Comets worked on a pass play that covered 60 yards to leave the halftime score at 8-6 in favor of the Eagles.

In the final half, the Eagles began to find their way back into the game. They scored on a 12 yard pass to Fred Wilson in the first quarter. The Mackinaw City team began to score freely and the Frederic defense started to buckle. In the third quarter, the Mackinaw City team scored on a 12 yard pass to Fred Wilson in the first quarter. ## Your Grandchildren's Forests . . .

Despite the appearance of a great many so called "new" materials, wood is used in 90 per cent of the nation's homes. But as a result of research, there's a great deal more to be found in a tree than boards.

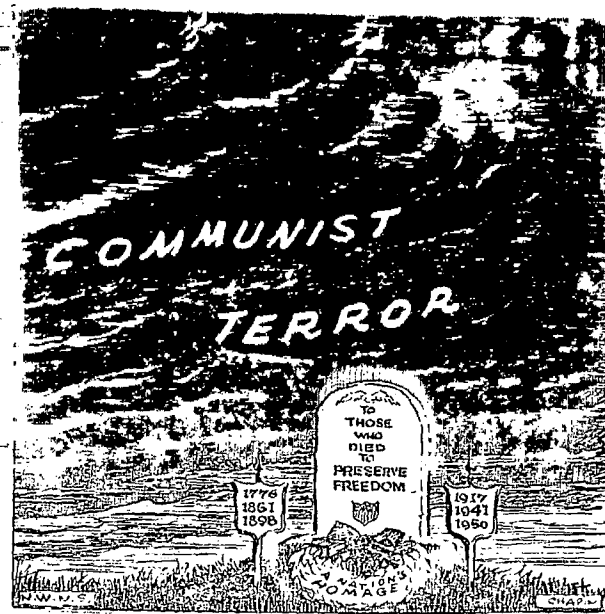

It is estimated that more than 5,000 different products are made from forest materials. Wood has many hidden faces which are yet only partially known. Shredded, cooked and reformed, it is made into countless paper products—useful for everything from handkerchiefs to packaging grand pianos. It is treated chemically to produce such things as imitation leather, alcohol, plastics, lacquers, synthetic rubber, acetic acid and glycerine for medicines.

We're a long way from knowing the full potential of wood. Some 25 per cent of the contents of a log is composed of a substance called lignin — a kind of cement that binds the cells of a tree together. How to use it is still largely unknown.

The forest industries, through broad use of their products, touch every part of the country. The central fact about this industry is that it is based upon our only renewable natural resource — our forests. Timber companies, both large and small, are vitally concerned with conservation practices which run the gamut from full utilization of the log once it is cut, to reforestation programs on the broadest scale.

Sustained yield logging, developed on private timberlands, involves cutting no more trees on an average than can be replaced by new growth each year. It has been highly successful so that we are now taking some 25 per cent less wood than we are growing each year.

The goals of perpetual forests, offering both commercial and recreational values and full utilization of each tree cut, are being well met. Barring government or other outside interference, your great grandchildren will know the beauties of wild tree-covered lands as well as the wonders of the thousands of products coming from them.

Life And Death . . .

Editor Max Ascoli of The Reporter, a magazine of the liberal persuasion, has this to say about the Communist leaders: "Much more than Marxism makes for the inhumanity of their system and their drive toward world conquest. They cannot tolerate freedom or prosperity at their borders; and to gain the goods, the services, the choices that civilization provides in the most advanced countries they must dominate those countries by isolating them from their allies and sterilizing their freedom. The first on the list, of course, is West Germany; the last but by no means the least is us. This is the newest and most infamous form of colonialism."

The long editorial from which this excerpt is taken amounts to a rousing attack on the "better Red than dead" movement, which has developed a certain following in England and elsewhere. It is a movement which, if successful, would give the Kremlin everything it wants, with hardly a struggle, and lead to the enslavement of the world. So another thing Mr. Ascoli says deserves the widest currency: "... the negotiations that are in prospect now are on a matter of life and death for us. If we negotiate away Berlin and Germany, that would make NATO negotiable. It is to be assumed that our administration's leaders do not consider the survival of our nation as negotiable."

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVANCECHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

November 10, 1938

Even the elements seemed bent on sending the Republicans into oblivion Tuesday, for, practically every variety of inclement weather was doled out that election day.

There was downpour of rain, snow, sleet and hail, cold, with a goodly accompaniment of wind. Error! What a day! Then on top of that their arch enemies, the Democrats, were waiting with scalping knives to add to their discomfort. But an old proverb that says "He who laughs last, laughs best" proved true when results of the voting began to be revealed. Outside reports began trickling in, all indicating Republican victories thru-out the state.

While Gov. Murphy showed small majorities in Wayne County, his opponent, Frank D. Fitzgerald, was piling up huge votes in all parts of the state. Reports were conflicting in many instances and often appeared incredulous, but the final records proved a complete annihilation of the state Democratic state and district tickets. County officials reelected included Axel Peterson, County Clerk, Ronrow Hanson, Register of Deeds, William Ferguson, County Treasurer, John A. Papendick, Sheriff, Merle Nellist, Prosecuting Attorney.

Mrs. Oscar Schnelker of Flint is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hoels.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hanson returned Sunday from a few days vacation spent in Chicago visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roberts had as their guests Sunday the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson of Gaylord.

Miss Elizabeth Kraus is enjoying a week's vacation from her duties at the Michigan Public Service Company office and is spending the time in Detroit.

Mrs. James Coakley and son Donald of Stockbridge, Mich., have joined Mr. Coakley here and the family is occupying one of the Cooley apartments. Mr. Coakley is supplying at the Avalanche office.

MRS. DELIA SMITH SUCCUMBS OCT. 31

Mrs. Delia Olive Smith, 85, of 603 Cedar St., Grayling, succumbed to heart failure on October 31-1961, following a heart attack. She had been in ill health for the past year.

Mrs. Smith came to Grayling in 1890, when she was 17 years old. She was born May 17th, 1876, to Jesse and Olive Duell at Joseph Smith in Bay City in 1894.

Grayling has been her home ever since coming here. Mr. Smith preceded her in death many years ago. Her principal role in life was that of a homemaker. Along with her home, her greatest source of pride was her flowers. She was very self-reliant, and her presence in the neighborhood will be missed by friends and neighbors.

As long as she was able, Mrs. Smith loved to cook, and a great many people enjoyed her invitations to supper. She was always prepared for an unexpected guest, and loved to have her many friends drop in. On holidays, Mrs. Smith was always in her kitchen preparing treats for the neighborhood children.

She was a devoted mother, the shut-ins in her town, either taking them cakes and other foods of her own fixings.

Surviving are a grandniece, Edithelle Houser of Mishawaka, Ind., a grandnephew, William F. McKay, with the U. S. Navy at Philadelphia, Pa., and three great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Sorenson Funeral Home on Saturday, November 4th, at 11 a.m. The Rev. Alvin Johnson of the Calvary Baptist church officiated.

Mrs. Smith was of Baptist faith. Burial was in Oakwood Mausoleum in Saginaw, Michigan.

There to attend the services were Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Houser and Mr. and Mrs. William F. McKay, Mishawaka, Ind., and Mrs. Max Reynolds of Elkhart, Ind., and Mrs. Kenneth Velle of Niles, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hill of Bay City, William McKay of the US Navy from Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. William Middleton and family of Flint.

Your Life Can Depend On Brake Fluid

A motorist in a small, mid-western town got into his four-year-old car one morning recently, started it up and drove from his home to the highway section on the way to his work. He applied his brakes... and was lucky to escape with his life as he plowed into the side of a passing transport.

He learned too late to prevent what could have been a fatal accident: that he had no brake fluid. The only remedy was to have the car "leaked" out on him during the night. His brake fluid, used to build up pressure of the linings on the drums, had drained out through a broken connection on the fluid line to his left front wheel.

Such an accident could happen to any of us, even with late model cars. The only remedy is constant inspections of hose connections and fluid levels.

A small leak may not affect normal brake operations up to the time you car is packed. The danger occurs when it is left standing long enough to drain away this vital fluid, on which all braking action depends.

How can this danger be overcome? Only by regular checks by an alert mechanic trained to recognize leaky connections and malfunctioning parts. It should be done as often as the car is lubricated at a very minimum.

Wherever you take your car for service, insist on a regular inspection. If it is at our garage, this check is a part of our normal lubrication procedure.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Makes A "Lot" of Sense

The other day I was driving by Slim Thomas' used car lot, when I noticed he'd put up a big neon sign. Trouble was, one of the letters was upside down. So I drove in. "Hey, Slim," I said, "that's a nice new sign—but one of the letters is wrong-side up!"

"Heck, I know that," laughs Slim. "Matter of fact, I had it made that way deliberate. Figuring folks were bound to come in to tell me about it—and it works! I must get four or five new prospects a day."

Then he grins down at me. "By the way, Joe," he says, "I could give you a pretty good deal on that car of yours."

From where I sit, "look before you leap" is especially true whenever you start to give advice. Unlike Slim, some folks may not welcome your suggestion—especially about personal affairs! Whether your neighbor takes coffee with his meals, or prefers a glass of beer—that's really his own "business." Giving folks credit for knowing their minds is a good way of keeping friendships "right-side up."

Joe Marsh

Local Women Attend Grand Rapids Convention

Mrs. Joseph Hull and Mrs. Bud Gould attend State Convention at Grand Rapids of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, October 26, 27 and 28.

The 40th annual convention was held at the Morton House with tours to the Mary Free Bed Orthopedic Center and to the Indian Trails Camp for Crippled Children. The outstanding speakers were Dr. Albert E. Heutsis, Michigan Department of Health who spoke on "Apathy, our most crippling disease" and urged everyone to get regular health checkups and to be sure and see a doctor when we notice any lumps or irregularities.

Dr. Richard Moore, PH.D. Associate Professor, Department of Biology, Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Texas, who is a cerebral palsy victim, and formerly a student from the Grand Rapids Orthopedic School, spoke on "Sand on My Shoes". He outlined the life of a person with cerebral palsy and urged each one so affected not to let their disability become their handicap. The banquet speaker was Dr. Richard C. Bates, M. D., of Lansing. His address was "How To Have A Heart Attack". He was very humorous but also pointed out the very things we all do to bring on a heart attack.

When you visit a center like Mary Free Bed and see the wonderful things that are done for the person who has lost one or more limbs either from accident, or birth defects, it certainly makes you want to work for such organizations as the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

There were patients from 23 states at Mary Free Bed this year

besides Michigan where most of them are from. A little girl, 7 years old, born with only one arm and no legs demonstrated for us how well she could walk with her new legs and how she could eat and set the table with her new arm and hand on one side and hand on the right side. This little girl flew to Mary Free Bed from Iowa all by herself. She was plucky and smiling. She was not letting her disability become her handicap. The doctors and nurses, all working together have done just wonderful things for the disabled. If you have never visited Mary Free Bed, you should.

We also had panel discussions, one was of the parents of a recently disabled child. How they had accepted the fact, what they had done and how the child was progressing. On the next panel the children talked to us each describing his own disability and the work of the schools they attend.

We saw Gov. Swainson receive the Gallantry award for surmounting his own handicap.

We also saw the child with the speech problem and what is being done for them. This was truly a very enlightening convention and we only wish more of you could have taken part. Our local chapter was fourth in the state in money given per capita. Our total amount was very small compared to the large counties but we gave 13.1 cents per capita. The State average was 96 per capita. We hope to do even better come the next drive at Easter time. It was also suggested that persons make memorial gifts for funerals etc. to the local Crippled Children

Chapter. There were many ideas brought out for us to do to help our crippled children and adults in our area. If there is anything we can do for anyone with a disability, please do not hesitate to call us. Your local chapter officers are: Lora Gould, president; Norma Hull, treasurer; Marge Haugh, secretary; and Elsie Jensen, Vice Chairman; and Maureen McNamara. The Woman's Club is our sponsoring club.

Do not hesitate to call us if you have a problem. If it is not something we can do, we will help you contact the right group and see that you are taken care of. It was pointed out also that each and everyone of us have some sort of disability, only some people's show more than others and to "Not let your disability become your handicap". The theme of the entire convention was "Accepting the Positive by Minimizing the Handicap", and it was certainly accomplished by the executive committee and the doctors and therapists who took part.
